

Rise Workforce Scheduling

Create your best fit schedules, every time

Schedule the right person every time with Rise Workforce Scheduling. Now you can schedule the right person with the right skills at the right time without overspending your budget or burning out your employees. Rise automatically generates best fit schedules to help control labour costs, minimize compliance risk, and improve productivity.

Simplify your staffing

Create best-practice schedules that align staffing, budget and demand with easy-to-use tools and automated work flows.

Save time and headaches

Spend less time building and managing schedules with automatic enforcement of scheduling rules and policies that help you avoid employee grievances.

Make decisions on the fly

Real-time visibility into accurate employee data, labour costs, and demand makes it faster and easier to make intelligent staffing decisions anytime.

Automate attendance tracking

Drive more accurate enforcement with automatic updates to employee attendance points/occurrences with no manual intervention required.

Build schedules that support compliance

Once the schedule is built, you can automatically fill open shifts to maximize productivity and minimize compliance risk.

Gain better visibility

Get the right information at your fingertips, including open shift reports, coverage maps, and employee reports, schedule summaries and work time availability and preferences.

Want a deeper dive into everything Rise can do for you?

Contact us